

KAYDEN (hyunsik kim)'s cover letter

I'm HYUNSIK KIM (Eng : kayden) who is going to graduate from the Adelaide University Full Stack Coding Bootcamp in June. And I have a diploma(korean) of mechatronics and Certificate III, IV, Diploma and advanced diploma in commercial cookery.

When it comes to my career in korea, I have 3 year's experience as a mechanical engineer for samsung electronics in semi-conductor field. My duty was being an engineer who incharged of LAM(Lam Research Corporation) semiconductor manufacture equipments, maintained and repaired the equipments can be operated for 24 hours, managed and trained juniors as a manager, rostering, set up new ER system for new DRAM (dynamic random access memory)

For the experience in Australia, I have 4 year's experience and 3 year's as a chef in the Hospitality field.

If I were to briefly explain a chef's career history, I have run high volume kitchen with head chef include rostering, ordering, managing and training kitchen staffs etc.

Judging by the above experience, I can say that I am good at control pressure and working under pressure confidently. I am great at time management. I have the ability to work without supervision.

Also I am a fast learner and I am good at paying attention to details. I have heard I'm faithful all time from my head chefs and colleagues in all the workplaces that I have worked. Also I have excellent time management and forward planning skills.

I have been regarded by managers and colleagues as a person who is a good team leader, very hardworking ,faithful, loyal, can handle pressure, easy to get along with, give good instrution, conscientious, organised, always puntual, good communicator, good blood for staff, doing great jobs for new position.

The reason why I apply is I am trying to change my career to new industry for new start. As you can read, I am confident that I can learn any jobs really quick and get used to the job easliy. And because I have a couple of career, I have wide diversity of thoughts and can be capable of complex thinking.

Thanks for reading my cover letter.

– Kayden / mobile : 0433-949-969 / rlagustlr122@naver.com